This remark was made to a man who called at the Post Office Department to recommend the appointment of a fourth-class Postmaster in the northern part of the State. It is understood that he will shortly issue an order abolishing the quaranwhich is Robert Blaine, a brother of the late James G. Blaine. The Secretary takes this action on the ground that the work of the division is not sufficient to continue it longer During the past year the importation of cattle into the United States has greatly decreased. The work of this division will probably be as-signed to the Bureau of Animal Industry.

The President has withdrawn the nomination of William T. Townes to be Consul at Rio Janeiro. Mr. Townes's name should have been sent in as Consul-General and not simply as Consul. One of the most interesting will be the copy of the original cepy of the notes of the speech delivered by Jefferson when he was inducted into the office of President of the Senate. The committee provided that these photographs shall be taken at the Capitol under the personal supervision of the Secretary of the Senate, and that the negative plates shall be left in his custody. This is done in order that there may be no chance to duplicate copies, thereby permitting the pictures to be put on sale throughout the country.

STRALING IN THE WEATHER BUREAU. 01d Type, New Books, a Granite Step, Pens,

Pencils, and Paper Taken and Sold, WASHINGTON. April 7. - The investigation reau was continued to-day. John Sullivan, a laborer, testified that he saw five boxes of old type and rubbish in a wagon which was removed from the sheds adjoining the bureau to be condemned and sold at public auction. On Oct. 24 last he saw about 400 pounds of type and some belting near the telegraph clerk to it. About a year ago, by order of the captain of the watch, 2,000 pounds of new books were sold to a junk dealer named Hoppenmaer as old paper. He said that by direction of the captain of the watch a granite step belonging to the building, worth about 320, was removed during the night and sold.

William Plummer, a laborer in the bureau, testified that he packed seven boxes of type by direction of a man named Ifran, but knew nothing of the delivery of it.

Louis Hoppenmaer, a junk dealer, testified that he had been asked by telephone to call at the house of one livan, a watchman in the clerk to it. About a year ago, by order of the

that he had been asked by telephone to call at the house of one liyan, a watchman in the bureau, who wished to dispose of a quantity of pens, pencils, paper, &c. He refused to have anything to do with the goods, which he estimated to be worth probably $100 or mora. The witness said that hyan made the remark that the goods were given him by officials of the department, who referred to them as surplus, which caused Secretary Morton to smile and say that he too, was trying to get rid of the surplus. One cheek for material bought by the witness was made in favor of Capt. Stone, the disbursing officer, and the others in favor of Capt. Branon.

Alian Spencer, the driver of the mail wagon, said that he earried four book cases and some damaged rugs from the Weather Bureau to Capt. Brannon's house. The book cases he never saw again, but the rugs were returned. William E. Weedon, a Washington detective, said that he had been ordered to investigate charges of petty larreny in the Weather Bureau, and decided upon the arrest of Foreman Robinson of the printing office. He visited the various junk dealers of the city and learned that they had bought old material from Brannon. He saw Brannon, who admitted selling certain articles, and said that he had authority to do so, He said that the pencifs, pens, paper, &c., in Ryan's cellar were worth about $500 or more.

The investigation will be continued to-morrow.

Gov. Caleb W. West of Salt Lake City, renominated for Governor of Utah, succeeded Ell S. Murray of Kentucky as Governor of that Territory, having been appointed by Mr. Cleveland from Kentucky in 1836. He made one of the most efficient and popular Governors the Territory has had, and contributed very materially by his taet in inducing the Church to renounce polygamy and to obey the laws. Two years ago Gov. West joined the divisionist Democrats in the Territory, and has since been an earnest advocate of Statehood for Utah. Gov. West was forn in Cynthiana. Ry. May 25, 1844, and was educated at Millersburg. He entered the Confederate army, and served under Joseph E. Johnston in Virginia, and later under Gen. John H. Morran is the West. He was a prisoner for twenty-three months at Johnston's Island, in Lake Erie. After the war he practised his profession in his native State, and hover held office until his selection by Mr. Cleveland for the Governorship of Utah. He succeeds Gov. Arthur L. Thomas, appointed by Mr. Harrison.

Dominic I. Murphy, nominated to be First Commissioner of Pensions, virtually grew up in the Pension fureau. He first entered the service as messenger, was promoided to be a clerk, and finally to be the chief clerk of the office, His elevation to the deputy Commissionership is due to his own merit and the solielitation of Mr. Harrity, who has been for some days urging his selection. WATERTOWN, N. Y., April 7.-William Graves of Point Peninsula, while walking from his RED BANK FOLK ARE TIMID.

DOERN CASES OF SMALL-FOX CAUSE A GENERAL SCARE.

The Health Board Enforcing a Rigid Quar-natine—An Organ Grinder and His Monkey Fall Foul of Its Regulations—A War of Extermination Upon Stray Dogs and Cata. The people of Red Bank are at present stuggling with a small-pox scare, and as a result business there is almost at a standstill The disease has been lurking around the town since the early winter, but it was thought to be confined to the Italian quarter. Three of gang of Italians who came from Newark were taken down with the disease in December, and one of them died. The authorities maintained a quarantine until it was thought that all danger was over. A week ago last Thursday three new cases of the disease were discovered in town. The Board of Health was immediately notified, and precautions were taken at once to prevent the spread of the disease. The new cases were Mrs. Augustus Chandler, the wife of a livery stable keeper, living on Shrewsbury avenue, and Allie and Frank Friedler, two stage drivers. All three had been sick for several days before the doctors were able to determine the nature of their trouble. The news that the disease had reappeared spread like wildfire through the town and out into the adjoining villages. On Friday Peter Quackenbush, another stage driver, was taken down, and on Saturday and Sunday Augustus Chandler, Willie Stiles, the young son of John Stiles, a well-known builder, Frank Chandler, a liveryman, his little daughter Mary. Robert Smith. an under-taker. Minor Woodward, a mill hand, and Burt Gray, son of Freeman Gray, an insurance agent, were stricken with the disease. W. C. Nicholas, who used to keep a drug store in Red Bank, was the next victim, and on Tuesday Miss Bessie Valentine and Henry von Glahn, a grocer, showed symptoms of the dis-

Red Bank is the business centre of Mon mouth county, and when the citizens realized that they had a possible epidemic of small-pox on their hands they went about getting rid of the disease as best they knew how. Theodore Sickles, a well-known citizen, offered his big double house on Leonard street as a temporary hospital. The Board of Health consulted four of the best physicians in town. and on their recommendation decided to ac-

by, got wind of the fact that Sickies's house was to be made into a temporary hospital and they entered a protest. They gathered in front of the house and refused to allow a wagon load of cots, which had been driven up to the door on a truck, to be taken inside. Three of the town Commissioners were sent for, and they tried to induce the people to go away, but the latter said that unless the project was given up they would tear down the house and make a bonfire of it. That settled the matter, and the idea of making a hospital out of the house was given up.

The Board of Health held a meeting, and it was finally decided to erect a hospital on a piece of land just outside of the town, on the hank of the Shrewsbury River. A blg gang of laborers was immediately put to wors, and the pince will probably be ready on Sunday. Mr. William lickett of the Jersey City Hospital, who has been through three small-pox epidemics, has been secured to take charge of the new hospital, and a corps of trained nurses will be on hand as soon as things are ready for them. Every house in which the disease has appeared has been quarantined. The Town Committee has sworn in nearly thirty deputies, who are now guarding these houses.

Two deputies were relegated to special duty on Monday. The special duty consisted in riding around town on horseback, armed with shotguns and pistols, and cutting chort the careers of stray dogs and cats. Since Monday nearly three hundred of these animals have been killed, whether they were astray or not. The streets for a day or two were strewn with the bodies, but a wagon was sent around on Thursday to gather them up.

The Riev. Dr. Robert McKellar of the Episcopal Church is a great friend of W. C. Nicholias, and while the latter was sick, and before the real nature of his trouble was discovered, Mr. McKellar called on him several times. On Monday he called at the house of Mr. Nicholas and was informed that small-pox was in the house. "I'm not afraid," said Mr. McKellar, and ha went in and saw the patient and h this he called on Dr. McKellar and told him he must not visit the house again. "If you go, said Mr. Cook, "you and your family will be quarantined."

On Tusaday Dr. McKellar, in deflance of the authorities, called on Mr. Nicholas. Shortly after his return home he was visited by three of the Town Committee, who informed him that a guard had been left at his door, and that neither he nor any of his family would be allowed to leave the house for eighteen days. Dr. McKellar has notified the town authorities that he will sue them as soon as he is released. There will be no service in the Episcopal Church for three Sundays.

On Sunday last, when young Burt Gray was found to be suffering from the disease, his brother Walter skipped out of town. He reappeared yesterday, and was immediately captured by two deputies. They took him to the house where his brother lay ill, and ordered tured by two deputies. They took him to the house where his brother lay ill, and ordered him to stay there. An Italian organization with a pet monkey wandered into town yesterday morning, and stopped in front of Freeman Gray's house. The monkey climbed up the side of the house, and, it is said, crawled into one of the windows and got some money. Word of this was conveyed to the Beard of Health, which immediately sent deputies out to bring the frightened Italian and the chattering monkey before it. A consultation was held, and it was decided to fumigate the offenders. This was done, and both were then relegated.

tering monkey before if. A consultation was held, and it was decided to funigate the offenders. This was done, and both were then released.

The residents of Red Bank are fearful lest the threatened culdemic will innere their summer business. As it is the scare has become so general that people from the near-by villages who usually get all their supplies in Red Bank will not venture into the town. The public library has been closed, and the Mechanic and Texas street schools have been closed. If any more cases occur the Oakland street school will also be closed. Dr. Edwin Field, who is attending all of the patients, said yesterday that the only case which was likely to result fatally was that of Augustus Chandler. The Red Bank authorities learned yesterday that a n.an named Henry Vernell of Nit Swamp, which is five miles 'away, has developed small-nox. There is also a case at Tinton Fails and another at Long Branch.

The physiciaus of Red Bank have no time now to attend to their regular practice. They are all busy vaccinating the people of the village. The Board of Health has not made vaccination compulsory, but the people need no urging.

The Outrage on Our Consulate in Peru, WASHINGTON, April 7 .- No additional facts relating to the assault upon a United States Consulate in Peru have been received by the State Department officials to-day. Efforts to locate the scene of the trouble have thus far been fruitless. The cable company reports that the name of the place was not contained in the despatch and that there was no dropping out in transmission. A search of the files for the past year shows no report from any for the past year shows no report from any sub-Consulate left in charge of an acting Consul, so that the records throw no light on the subject. Of the six sub-Consulates in Peru. sive of them are on the coast and one in the interior—Pinra. It is connected with Palia by a line of railroads. The officials at the department say that from their knowledge of the country the affair is as likely to have occurred in one place as another, and therefore until the arrival of the mail, probably about the 25th inst., containing Minister Hicks's letter, the location will be unknown, unless Minister Hicks should supplement his cablegram with another giving the information.

On Ocean Steamers

Royal Baking Powder has been adopted for use in lieu of every other leavening agent. Primarily, it saves labor and economizes food; but it also affords a more acceptable cuisine. It makes bread not only peculiarly light, sweet, and more wholesome than yeast bread, but imparts to it peptic qualities that render it more agreeable to the frequently disturbed digestive organs of the ocean traveler. Besides, Royal Baking Powder is the only leavening agent possessing preservative qualities which give uniform results during the whole of an ocean voyage. These are useful hints for housekeepers.

A Committee of the State Health Officials

THE MEIN, SATURDAY, CAPRIL 8, 11898, 111T

The members of the National Conference of State Boards of Health who represent the the Conference has been dealing with too various interests to permit the obtaining of specific and valuable results. Consequently they called yesterday a special meeting of the Sanitary Council of the Mississippi Valley. embracing fifteen States between Minnesota and Louisians on the north and south and and Iowa and Pennsylvania on the west and east. Dr. Plunkett of Tennessee presided, and Dr. Reilly of Illinois was Secretary.

Resolutions were passed requesting the Surgeon-General of the Marine Hospital Service to make a thorough investigation of the reappearance of cholers in Russia, and, if the facts seem to justify it, that the case be laid before the authorities in Washington, prohibit immigration, either in whole or in part, under the new quarantine laws, Another resolution calls upon the Marine H ospital Service to institute a system of sanitary inspection of travel and traffic in the States represented in the Council, this inspection to be kept up from year to year during such a period as may be found necessary. Still another calls on the Marine Hospital Service to institute a system of immigrant inkept under surveillance from the time he passes quarantine until he reaches his des-

Before the regular evening session of the International Conference convened the mem-bers of the Sanitary Council got together and elected officers, and formally decided to lay the resolutions they had adopted before the Conference. The officers elected were: President, Dr. J. C. Plunkett of Tennessee;

Vice-Fresident, Dr. J. N. Taylor of Indianas Secretury, Dr. J. H. Rauch of Illinois.
Dr. A. O. B. Wingate of Wisconsin called the Conference to order. The call of the States on present sanitary canditions was continued, and Dr. Reilly of Illinois read his report. In which with the control of the mark the control of the employres and by inadequate appropriations, has made a record which is more than creditable. Its probable efficiency in the event of an outbreak of cholera may be inferred from its uparalleled record in dealing with small-pox. As to cholera, the department has made ample provision for isolation, disinfection of premises, surveillance of those exposed, and care of the patient.

hospital here was found to be well equipped, and the disinfecting apparatus of approved pattern.

The Conference adopted the report, and then gave Dr. Relliy a chance to read the resolutions which the Sanitary Council had passed.

Dr. Cochran wanted to know whether the resolutions were put forward by way of information or for action. If the latter was desired, he thought the Council's action was an unwarrantable attempt to interfere with the powers of the Conference. Fresident McCormack said in reply that they had hoped to give the action of the Council a wide scope by having it endorsed by the Conference.

The communication was laid on the table, and the Conference proceeded in comparative harmony to elect officers for the coming year. President McCormack of Rentucky, who has held the office for eight years, was supplanted by Dr. C. A. Lindsley of Connecticut. Dr. C. O. Probat of Ohio was recilected as Secretary, and Dr. H. B. linker of Alabama as Treasurer. A new office was created for Dr. Irving A. Watson of New Hampshire, who was made the First Vice-President of the Conference.

"The object of your directors in making the new mortgage is to provide for the present and future construction and equipment requirements of the company. It is, therefore, proposed that $5,000,000 of the new bonds ito bear 4 per cent. interest shall be sold and their proceeds used to cover outlays for the construction and additions already made or in progress, or which may be undertaken during this and the next fiscal year; and that the remaining bonds shall be issued only for like additions thereafter to an aggregate not exceeding $1,000,000 in any one fiscal year. This amount, it is thought, will be sufficient to provide for the regular outlays for construction and equipment for many years and leave the company in a position to pay dividends out of its earnings. While the earnings have decreased largely during the winter months just passed, the decrease is due to special causes, which your directors believe to be only temporary. In their opinion the property is good and abundantly able to take care of its fixed charges tincluding the slight additions to same for interest arising from the issuance of these bornist, and to continue paying its regular division, which is operated separately) were over $14.800,000. If studied law at first, but subsequently turned to divinity, and after being graduated from the General Theological Seminary, took orders in the Episcopal Church in 1835. His first parish was that of St. Peter's, Morristown, N. J. He subsequently served as assistant at Grace Church in this city. He was rector of Paul's, Albany, from 1848 until 1853, when he was chosen missionary Bishop of California. He was elected Bishop four years later. He was thus California's first and only Bishop. As such he was more respected than liked, for his not unnatural pride in his family was not calculated to endear him to the democratic Pacific slope. In him, however, the Episcopal Church had a Bishop who was conspicuous for ability and learning as well as for Christian character. Bishop kip was an author of no little note. In addition to contributions to the Churchman he published "The Lenten Fant," "The Double Witness of the Church," "Early Jesuit Missions in America." "The Catacombs of Rome." Early Conflicts of Christianity," Unnoticed Things of Scripture," "The Church of the Apostles." and more recently a sketch of Californian life in the early days of his episcopate. He was made a doctor of divinity by Columbia in 1847 and a doctor of divinity by Columbia in 1847 and a doctor of divinity by Columbia called High Church. In 1850 his bias seems to have been the other way, for in that year he edited. "The Confessions of a Romish Convert." His advancing age necessitated the appointment of an assistant Bishop a few years ago. His last episcopal function was the ordination of a grandchild as a priest in the Church of which he had been nearly forty years a Bishop. studied law at first, but subsequently turned to

The offer made to the Finance Company was accepted to-day at a meeting of the Board of Directors, and a similar offer will be considered by the directors of the Investment Company within a few days. The terms of the proposition have not yet been made public, but it is said to be a very favorable one for the socurity holders. The scheme is understood to include the formation of a new company to complete the road, the capital for this purpose to be furnished by the syndicate. The securities of the Three C's will be surrendered by their present owners, who will receive in return therefor securities of the new corporation. I., May 12, 1826, and was the son of a Methodist clergyman, who belonged to the New York Conference and occupied several pulpits in this city, including the Mulberry street and Allen street churches. His grandmother was a daughter of James Nicholson, the first Commodore of the United States Navy. One of his aunts married Albert Galiarin, the celebrated statesman and financier, and it was through his relationship to the Gailatins that Mr. Seney came to go into tanking. After having spent a short time at Wesleyan University he went to the University of the City of New York, where he was graduated in the class of 1847. In this same year he was made paying teller of the Metropolitan Bank, of which he was alterward President. Mr. Sensy negotiated the Nickel Plate Bailtond enterprise, and is said to have made about a million and a half dollars out of the sale of the railroad to the Vanderbills, whose Lake Shore Haliroad it paralleled. By this time he was already reckoned among the millionaires of the metropolis. About 1874 he began to astonish even his most intimate friends by his gifts to various educational and charitable institutions. Others who knew something of his real situation, and the resources required by his extensive enterprises, remonstrated with him. He was warned that he could not afford it: that he might get his affairs into serious complications. His gifts include $410,000 to the Methodist General Hospital of Brooklyn, $100,000 to the Long Island Historical Society. $250,000 to Emory and Wesleyan College, Macon. Ga., and $100,000 to yearnous benevolant objects in Brooklyn. He founded the Reney scholarships, and largely endowed Wesleyan University, and gave to miscellaneous charities more than $400,000. His gallery of paintings was resident of the blank. At one time he was heavily interested in the Historical Bocklyn, by whom he had six William M. Taylor, or the Rev. Dr. John W. All women will be deeply interested in the following true story told by Mrs. Amos V. Delli who resides at 235 Hancock avenue. Jerses City Heights, N. J. "I suffered from complete prostration and exhaustion of the nerves and physical system." she said. "I had womb disease terribly and leucorrhora so bad that I could hardly walk. I was tired and weak all the time, and hardly cared whether I lived or died. I took Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and now feel as if I had a new lease of life.

"I no longer have that tired feeling, the lease corrhora has stopped, and I do my work without getting tired. This wonderful medicine has done me more good than anything else dose on going to bed, and in the morning woke up feeling like another woman: it seemed strange for me to know what it was to get us strange for me to know what it was to get up without feeling tired. I feel that I cannot praise Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy enough!

Her atory is more than equalled by that of Mrs. J. B. Swift of 2.789 Washington street. Boaton Mass. She says:

"Four years ago I was in a position of complete physical and nervous prostration; had but little appetite, with severe indigestion, stomach distended with gas, constipation, palpitation of the heart, alseplessness, pain in back of the neck and base of the brain, so nervous and despondent that life was a barden.

"As a result of this condition, other weaknesses peculiar to my sex fell upon me, until I was utterly wretched.
"After much medical treatment and constant failure. I was induced to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It was in a faint-hearted way and with little hope, but I soon began to sleep better, my digestion improved, the pain in the head became less severe, and I gradually gained strength until I felt as if I had been extricated from a pit of abject darkness and despair and had emerged into the sunlight. Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy saved me!

"Very many of my friends to whom I have recommended the remeiy, can attest to similar results in their own cases. Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is truly a wonderful medicine and might well be called the 'Woman's Friend."
